BISHOP CHOSEN TO REPRESENT GOVERNMENT IN APPEAL

Instructed to Carry Up All Cases of Dependency Discharge—How to Appeal

Attorney Clyde Bishop has been appointed by Gov. W. D. Stephens as the government's special representative for taking appeals from Orange County District No. 1.

Bishop is authorized to take to the appeal board any case of dependency or exemption granted by the local board, and he is instructed by the regulations to appeal every case in which the local board grants a discharge by reason of dependency of relatives.

"There are two ways in which a registrant can escape draft," said Bishop this morning. "He can be exempted upon those certain things laid down by the rules. For instance, if he is an alien who has not yet taken out his first papers. The other way is by discharge from the district board. Discharge, for instance, can be for physical disability. It can be for dependency.

"The district board has power to pass upon every claim for discharge excepting the claim on occupational grounds, which claim goes direct to the appeal board.

"From the time a man files his claim for exemption, he has ten days in which to file his affidavits in support of that claim. Within three days after that ten days is up, the district exemption board must pass upon his case. The board must forthwith post the list of those held, and shall mail each man a notice of what disposition was made of his case. On or before the fifth day from the mailing of that notice, the man who has been refused a discharge shall file his appeal with the local board, if he is going to appeal.

"The local board shall send to the appeal board its list of names certified, as well as all of its records upon which dependency decisions were reached.

"There is no limit of time placed upon an appeal by the government. If at any time, the government's appeal representative has reason to believe that a mistake was made it shall be his duty to appeal the case to the appeal board and seek a reversal of the discharge order of the district board."

Bishop stated that he had not been appointed as legal adviser for the district board, as was at first understood by members of that body, but that he had been appointed as special representative of the government to see that appeals are taken for the protection of the government against unjust discharges.

Time Soon Up
The time for receiving affidavits in support of exemption claims will soon be up. In fact, for the first set of men examined last week the time will be up within a few hours, and Monday will be the last day for any of them to file.

Looking over the exemption affidavits, the board and its chief assistant clerk, G. H. Gobar, have found that some of the claimants have failed to complete the affidavits. In a few instances the claimant has put in an affidavit by himself and his wife but has no supporting affidavit from some other person. The government regulations require supporting affidavits. It is believed that ignorance as to what is required has caused some of the men to fail to file proper affidavits. The exemption board has no disposition to close down upon such a person and certify him into the service simply because he has laid himself open to such action, and it is seeking to give every person full opportunity to present his case in accordance with the law.

Files Statement
Edwin T. McFadden of Santa Ana, who was one of those certified as having passed the physical examinations last week and who did not claim exemption, today filed a statement from the war department showing that he has been appointed to go to the officers' training camp.

A statement published last week to the effect that R. W. Collins had claimed exemption, was groundless.

"I dreamed last night that I proposed to a beautiful girl," he confided. "And what did I say?" she queried breathlessly.—Princeton Tiger.

LUMBER SHIP LIFTED OFF BEACH BY TIDE

PLAYA DEL REY, Aug. 16.—Lifted off her perilous position on the beach off here early today by the incoming tide, after she had gone aground last night, the lumber schooner Martha Buehner resumed her course up the coast, bound for Coos Bay, to reload with lumber for Los Angeles harbor. The Martha Buehner sailed from the harbor yesterday and went aground in the fog. She sent up distress signals and Venice life guards and help from Redondo and San Pedro went to her aid. When it was seen the tide would probably refloat her, they stood by until she was safely on her way again.

Agitators Do Dirty Work of Kaiser, Says Russell, Returned From Russia

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Elihu Root and Charles Edward Russell, members of the American mission just returned from Russia, denounced pro-German agitators and unnamed members of Congress as traitors this afternoon.

"There are men walking the streets here today who ought to be hanged for treason. There are some newspapers published here every day the editors of which deserve a like fate," said Root.

Russell referred to congressmen who were attempting to get statements of war aims into the Senate as "disloyal Americans" that disgrace the Congress of the United States. "They are traitors in disguise who do the dirty work of the kaiser," he added.

DEMAND MANY CHEMISTS IN INDUSTRIAL FIELDS

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 16.—The removal of German competition and the demands of the war has created a need for trained chemists with the result that unusual inducements are now being offered by industrial concerns for these experts, according to Prof. Joel H. Hildebrand, of the University of California. Hildebrand, himself a chemist, has turned over his services to the government.

Hildebrand says that the war drains on the ranks of the chemists has depleted even the teaching forces and warns that this is a serious phase of the situation, as competent instructors are necessary to turn out the new talent necessary to fill demands.

The children's room will be open every afternoon. A feature is to be a series of illustrated lectures on children's subjects to be given on Saturday afternoons.

HAIG TAKES 1200 PRISONERS IN OFFENSIVE

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The British troops captured Langemark at noon today, it is announced. They took 1200 prisoners and five guns were captured.

ALLIES CONTINUE TO MAKE PROGRESS

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Field Marshal Haig struck again today, this time in Belgium, north of Ypres.

At 4:45 this morning the British and French attacked on a wide front. Heavy fighting was reported but progress was being made at all points in spite of stubborn resistance of the enemy, the British commander stated.

The attack was on the line running to the east and north of Ypres, where bitter fighting took place in the recent assault in Flanders.

Canadians Maintain Positions
The Canadians today still held the positions dominating Lens, which were taken yesterday, despite strong German counter attacks during the night.

Attempts of the Germans to regain hill 70 and other important positions continued during the night, Haig reported, but all were repulsed.

FRENCH JOIN BRITISH IN ATTACK

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Attacking in concert with the British, French troops today attained all objectives in a strong assault against the German lines in Flanders.

In one section an entire trench system was captured on a kilometer front. Four German counter attacks were thrown back and the French held all their gains.

"After violent and minute artillery preparation, the French launched an attack at daylight in conjunction with the British right," the War Office announced. "Our infantry irresistibly rushed the enemy positions on both sides of the Steenstrate-Dixmude road and carried all objectives."

"Crossing the Steenbeck, the French progressed with the British to the right bank. South of Ailles we vigorously attacked on a kilometer front and carried a solid trench system. We easily threw back four German counter-attacks, taking 120 prisoners, including an officer."

Near Houthulst the French advanced, taking some prisoners, the statement continued. Artillery was active on both banks of the Meuse. A successful raid was carried out at Louvot.

Despite bad weather French aviators took an active part in the offensive, accompanying the infantry, flying low and raking the enemy with their fire.

During the night and morning enemy encampments at Houthulst forest, Lichtervelde station, Ailles and Houthulst were bombed by French aviators.

OUTLINE GIVEN IS NOT FAVORED BY ALLIED NATIONS

British Press Says "No" to Proposal In Present Form

REGARDED IN ENGLAND AS OF GERMAN ORIGIN

Italy Says "Aims to Save Oligarchy of Central Powers"

BY ED L. KEEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 16.—With new emphasis, following publication of the official text of the peace appeal of Pope Benedict, the British press today answered "No" to his proposals looking toward ending of the war. The conditions outlined by His Holiness are regarded as indicating a stronger trend of German inspiration than the unofficial outline.

If the views of the press and public represent the keynote of sentiment, it may be taken for granted that the reply of the allies will be respectful rejection.

The text of the Pope's appeal was regarded as more pro-German and anti-ally than the advance notices even indicated. Opinion which yesterday had not crystallized, owing to the inadequate summary, was unanimous today that the Pope was either consciously or unconsciously German inspired in framing his appeal.

This is evidenced by the precision concerning all proposals favorable to Germany, as compared with the vagueness of those which might work out favorably for the allies, it was asserted here.

It was pointed out that restoration of Serbia, Montenegro and Rumania, is not mentioned, the fate of these countries being disposed of in the broad reference to settlement of affairs in the Balkans. The reference to freedom of the seas is regarded as an adoption of the German contention of this point.

The message, as made public by the foreign office last night, suggests the following principal points as conditions upon which an understanding can be reached, guaranteeing a durable peace:

Outlines Pope's Proposal

Suggestion of moral force of right for the material force of arms.

Reciprocal diminishing of armaments, leaving only sufficient armament for the maintenance of public order.

Substitution of arbitration for armies.

Each state must accept the international decision according to established rules and be subject to punishment if refusing to submit to arbitration or accept the decision.

True liberty and freedom of the seas.

Restitution of all occupied territories.

Evacuation of Belgium, with guarantee of her full political and economic independence.

As for the irredentia territory, it is hoped that in view of the advances of a durable peace with disarmament, the disputing countries will be willing to examine each question in a conciliatory spirit.

The questions of Poland and Armenia to be examined in the same spirit of equality and justice.

Note Surprises England
England was frankly surprised that the Pope should place the armies of Germany and the allies on an absolute plane, there being no word of censure, protest against the Belgian horrors, no mention of expecting from Germany some statement that would give the allies guarantees that such agreements as His Holiness suggests might not in the future be declared "scraps of paper" and thrown aside.

"Honor of Armies Safe"
"The whole world recognizes that the honor of the armies of both sides is safe," the Pope asserts.

The honor of the army which invaded Belgium, which massacred women and children, which shot Edith Cavell, which deported helpless men and women into slavery, which ruthlessly devastated the rich fields and orchards of France in its recent "strategic retreat" is therefore put on a level with and honor of the army of France and England, fighting in defense of their homes, of national honor and against an autocracy that threatened to engulf the world. England refuses to re-

PROPOSALS MADE BY POPE IN MESSAGE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

The proposals made by the Pope in his message made public today touch upon the following points:

Substitution of the moral force of right for the material force of arms.

Diminishment of armament.

Substitution of arbitration for arms.

Acceptance by each state of international decisions.

Guarantee liberty of the seas.

Restitution of all occupied territories.

Evacuation of Belgium.

Territorial questions to be examined in spirit of equity and justice.

gards the honor of such armies in the same light.

Message 2000 Words Long

The Pope's message, which is approximately two thousand words long, is devoted in its beginning to a recitation of the horrors of the war and to the efforts the Vatican has made from time to time to restore peace.

It pointed out that the Vatican has been entirely impartial. The spread of the conflagration is pointed out, the increasing horrors and suffering, after which the Pope asks:

"Is this civilized world to be nothing more than a field of death? And Europe, so glorious and so flourishing, is it going, as if stricken by a universal madness, to run the abyss and lend its hand to its own suicide?"

POPE STATES KAISER'S TERMS CLAIMED

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 16.—Pope Benedict has Germany's peace terms, according to the statement of a prominent German politician today.

The Lokal Anzeiger states this afternoon that his message is merely informing Germany's enemies of these terms.

PAPAL OFFER DOOMED TO FAIL, CLAIM

BY JOHN HEARLEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Aug. 16.—Pope Benedict's peace proposals are certain to be rejected by the allies, in the view of the Italian press. Unanimous opinion was expressed today that His Holiness has failed to include any of the principal points for which the entente powers are fighting. "The papal initiative is doomed to failure because it aims at saving the oligarchy of the central powers," the Messaggero asserts today.

"There is nothing to indicate that the entente is prepared to accept the Pope's proposal," says the Tribuna. "The optimism of pacifists was probably premature."

Substitute Right For Arms

The portion of the Pope's message in which he outlines terms follows:

"The fundamentals must be that the material force of arms be substituted by the moral force of right, through which shall arise a fair agreement by all for reciprocal diminution of armament in accordance with established rules and guarantees, in measure sufficient for maintenance of public order in the states. This involves, in addition, the substitution for armies of the institution of arbitration in accordance with rules to be established and penalties to be imposed on states which would refuse to submit questions to arbitration or accept its decisions."

Liberty of Seas

"With the supremacy of right thus established, true liberty and freedom of the seas would be assured, contributing to removal of many causes of conflict and opening all new sources of prosperity and progress. As to damages and war expenses, we see no way of solving the question other than by submitting a general principle of complete and reciprocal condonation which would be justified by the great benefit to be derived from disarmament."

"There are particular reasons for certain cases. They require the liberation with justice and equity, but these agreements with the advantages to be from them derived, are impossible without reciprocal restitution of territory, now occupied."

Evacuation of Belgium

"As to Germany there should be complete evacuation of Belgium with guarantees of her full political, military and economic independence."

"Also the evacuation of French territory and similar restitution of German colonies by the other belligerents."

"With regard to territorial questions, as those existing between Italy and Austria and between Germany and France, there is reason to hope that in view of the advantages of a durable peace with disarmament, the parties would wish to examine the matters with a conciliatory spirit, considering the aspirations of the people and the general welfare of humanity."

Equity and Justice Needed

WILSON ANSWER WILL APPEAL TO LIBERALS IS BELIEF

Cast Off Yoke of Kaiserism, Will Be Message of President

U. S. WARS AGAINST GERMANY'S AUTOCRACY

Will Recall Intrigues and Horrors of War On Innocents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The Pope's peace message was received by the State Department from Ambassador Page at London, who received it from the British foreign office, Secretary Lansing announced this afternoon.

The note is being translated and it will be made public soon.

Lansing said the published report that he had told diplomats that the proposal was not acceptable was "absolutely false."

"Judgment should be suspended until the government has spoken," he said.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—That political changes in Germany stripping kaiserism of its power, would shorten the war, is the opinion here today.

President Wilson appealed once to the liberal element of Germany to cast off the yoke of imperialism. That he will do so again in answer to the Pope's present peace proposal is believed by government officials.

PRESIDENT LIKELY TO MAKE ANSWER

BY CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—President Wilson is expected to answer the pontiff's peace plea with a statement showing the world why the allies must fight on so long as the German autocracy exists.

He probably will receive the Pope's note today. According to his advisers, there is only one course open to him. He will restate more emphatically than ever that the United States wars against Germany's autocratic system—its intrigues and horrors—rather than with any aim of crushing the German people themselves.

It is expected to be another bid to the German liberals to cast off the yoke of kaiserism and effect a new government shorn of schrecklichkeit.

U. S. Will Reject Offer, Claim

That this government will reject the Pope's proffer is now regarded certain. Germany's rulers will probably revive the old claim that the hand of every nation is against her people for conquest. But if President Wilson follows the course his advisers say he will, he will nullify that.

Pope Benedict's suggestion for reciprocal armament, future arbitration to endure peace and freedom of the seas met with approval here. They square with President Wilson's views. But the big stumbling block was his advocacy of returning to the territorial status before the war with negotiations over such disputed lands as Alsace-Lorraine and Italia Irredenta.

This idea, President Wilson has said, cannot be accepted.

He will doubtless point this fact out anew in replying to the Pope and will cast upon Germany's government, the burden of responsibility for inhuman practices and insatiable greed.

Diepel Idea Austrian Influence
The impression that Austrian influence has worked on the Pope was rather dissipated today by publication of the peace message wherein Pope Benedict declared he was "solely impelled by a sentiment of our supreme duty" and not by the "suggestions or interests of any of the belligerents."

Among diplomats here, however, there was some resentment of the Pope's proposal to allow Germany to return to her undisputed nation, while the French and others must repair grave damages without adequate compensation. The allied contention is that the kaiser should have future retribution visited on him. Vigorous exception is taken to the Pope's placing all the warring nations on an equal footing, in view of Germany's violations of law and atrocities committed on civil populations.

Proposal Will Provoke Thought

He recited interesting personal experiences in his service as ambulance driver in France, and told of the activities of Americans in this line of assistance in the war. He warned his audience that the United States and its allies have a hard fight before them if they attempt to carry the war to the point of utter defeat for the German arms.

The pictures showed some scenes of real trench fighting, but dealt mostly with the ambulance service and care of the wounded—how they are gathered from the fields of battle, and conveyed to the hospitals.

The theater was well filled with Santa Ana people who displayed their patriotism and interest in the American volunteer ambulance service by attending. The net proceeds of the entertainment will go to a fund being raised to pay the expenses of American volunteers to France and return. He declared that the attendance here was greater than it had been in similar cities where the films had been shown.

A splendid program of vocal solos, duets, quartettes and quintettes was rendered before the pictures in which some of the best local talent participated. The program was arranged by Prof. C. A. The total receipts of the evening were $128.75, with a little better than $100 clear. City Attorney Scott took an active interest in the entertainment and yesterday devoted considerable time to a personal canvass in Santa Ana and Orange in a ticket selling campaign. His services were greatly appreciated by the Chamber of Commerce, as were also those rendered by the participants in the musical program.

CHAPLIN VINDICATED OF SLACKER CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—Charlie Chaplin, purveyor of laughs, has found vindication today with the British embassy for the indictment as a slacker, brought by Lord Northcliffe in one of his London publications. Chaplin himself indignantly "called" the charge and declared he was ready for the trenches when called. Now comes official vindication.

"We would not classify Chaplin as a slacker," the embassy statement says, "unless we received instructions to put the compulsory service law into effect in the United States and unless after that he refused to join the colors."

BABE DROWNS IN WINTERSBURG DRAINAGE CANAL

Merrill Commons, Grandson of J. A. Murdy, Falls In Ditch, and Drowns

Another distressing accident in a drainage ditch occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of J. A. Murdy near Wintersburg, when his little sixteen-months old grandson, Merrill Commons, was drowned in one of the big canals of the Bolsa Drainage District. The baby was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Commons of Turlock and Mrs. Commons was visiting at the home of her father.

The canal passes in front of the Murdy house, being only about twenty feet away. The baby was playing in the front yard and wandered to the edge of the ditch. Climbing to the top of the embankment it is supposed that it toppled over into the stream. There was only about a foot and a half of water running, but it was sufficient to drown the little fellow. The body had drifted down the canal about fifty feet.

When the boy was missed search was instituted and his body was found by his aunt, Eva Murdy. It was 1:30 yesterday afternoon when the body was found and a physician was summoned from Huntington Beach. Coroner Winbiger was informed of the sad occurrence late yesterday afternoon.

The funeral was held this afternoon at Mills & Winbiger's Mission Funeral Home. Mrs. Commons and the baby came to Wintersburg last Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murdy. She came unexpectedly, having an opportunity to ride down from Turlock with some friends. The mother of the little one was getting ready to take the 2 o'clock car for Pomona, where she and her husband resided until their removal to Turlock a few months ago. Mr. Commons arrived here this morning.

RIVERSIDE PRESS CAN SEE NO REASON WHY

Riverside Press: When Riverside county planned its highway system, under the bond issue there was a sort of "gentlemen's agreement" with Orange county that if we would pave our part of the Santa Ana canyon road, our neighbors to the south would "come across" with commensurate improvements for their part of the highway. Riverside kept faith in the matter and a splendid concrete highway extends to the Orange county line. This should afford an outlet to the Orange county beach resorts, not only from Riverside county but from San Bernardino county as well. Paved roads from every important city and town in the two counties connect with this highway.

Orange county pleaded shortage of funds from its bond issue and did no more than fix up a dirt road through the canyon, and for some distance below. Two years ago the road from Peralta to Olive was a fright, but that was finally paved. In the big flood of January, 1916, more than a year and a half ago, a piece of the canyon road at Sulphur Hill was washed out, and it has not been repaired to this day. Last summer the canyon road was closed entirely, greatly to the detriment of Laguna, Newport, Huntington, and other Orange county resorts. After discussing the situation in a leisurely and somewhat languid manner for months, the Orange county supervisors finally let a contract to H. C. Kellogg to repair the road. That was several months ago and the work is not far advanced. A sort of road has been maintained this summer, but not one that can be traveled with comfort or peace of mind. A few days ago the county surveyor advised the supervisors to cancel the contract with Kellogg, on the theory that the work he is doing is not permanent because he did not go down to bed rock for the foundation of his concrete retaining wall. The surveyor did not propose any definite plan for completing the work, and the supervisors took the matter "under advisement." That phrase describes the condition of the canyon road a good part of the time for the last three years, and Riverside county people are wondering if the condition is going to be permanent.

The people in the interior towns of San Bernardino and Riverside counties like the Orange county beaches, but they are getting mighty tired of the facilities that county is furnishing to reach them. Fine paved roads lead all the way to Long Beach and other Los Angeles county resorts; and Orange county is steadily losing business that naturally should go there.

The situation is up to the Orange county supervisors; what are they going to do about it?

HUNTINGTON BEACH

ENCAMPMENT AT BEACH CLOSES
WITH FINE PROGRAM

WINNERS OF PRIZES
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—In the old-fashioned fancy dancing contest yesterday first prize was won by Mrs. Alice Stewart, aged 51, of Santa Monica, and H. J. Maltern, 73, of Los Angeles. Winners of second prize were Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hoff, aged 77 and 63, respectively, of Santa Ana.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 16.—Making a decided effort to rival or surpass all previous programs presented during the encampment the Robley Evans Corps of Los Angeles put on a program last evening that left little to be desired in the way of enjoyment. Mrs. Laura Parsons, president of the corps, was in charge of the program and knowing that it was of full length and high grade all the way through, she discouraged encores and permitted no delay between numbers.

The program was opened by the drum corps, followed by the three Davis sisters with beautiful gold instruments giving the various bugle calls. The Davis sisters are said to be the only lady buglers in the United States and their performance was highly enjoyed and only the determination of Mrs. Parsons, in charge of the program, prevented repeated encores.

The Wallis Dramatic school of Los Angeles furnished a program about an hour in length at this point as follows: Fancy dancing by little Helen Mooney and Ella Eustace, accompanied on the piano by Norman Moore. The little ladies with their hair flowing, appeared in white tulle costume. This number was followed by the rendition of Rudyard Kipling's "Gunga Din" by Norman Moore. Then came little six-year-old Dorothy Warren dressed in patriotic colors with a dress-suit costume. She was accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Warren. She gave two numbers, "It Is Time for Every Boy to Be a Soldier," and "When the Time Is Ripe." A three-part sketch presented in one scene by the company came next with Norman Moore, Fern Rand and C. W. Wallis in the parts, "All for a Million." Dorothy Warren then appeared in a final number which closed this portion of the program.

The Davis buglers appeared again at this time, followed by a series of readings by Miss Harriett Slaughter. Next came Myron Collins with several bell solos. The next number was by Mrs. Nellie J. Emerson, who was announced as a distant relative of Ralph Waldo Emerson and a very young performer. When Mrs. Emerson, a beautiful white-haired old lady, perhaps 75 years of age, came upon the platform, there was a burst of applause. Juanita Kitzner gave a pair of whistling solos, "The Glow Worm," and "Dixie Land," accompanied on the piano by Miss Rita Aikins of Santa Paula.

The Davis buglers gave another number followed by a stirring contribution from the drum corps and a short minstrel performance in which the entertainment manager, W. E. Herndee, members of the Robley D. Evans and the Bartlett-Logan Corps and friends took part.

The enrollment at the camp made another big jump yesterday, reaching the total of 752, which passes the mark which had been set. Evidently a number came for the purpose of taking part in the election of officers for the different state organizations which were held yesterday afternoon. The following states maintain separate organizations and headquarters on the grounds: Iowa, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Today at 10 o'clock the G. A. R. election took place and up to a late hour before the election no opposition had developed to the election of Tom Hull, the present senior vice commander of the post of commander and the advancement of G. W. Burlingame from junior vice commander to senior vice commander.

An important meeting of the council of administration was held Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of going over the financial affairs and closing the business of the camp in that regard. The books of the quartermaster were audited and found correct. The camp handles from $500 to $800 each year, the larger part of which is spent for current camp expenses with now and then an emergency appropriation.

Today completes the encampment. Many of the members of the camp left during the day but the great majority are remaining over night in order to be present at the installation and the final breaking of camp tomorrow morning.

The Christian Advent Society takes the camp grounds Friday morning.

BYRAM WRITES OF CAMP LIFE

Westminster Boy Doing Engineering Duty In American Lake, Wash.

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 16.—Following is a letter from Corporal Carroll Byram of Company B, California Engineers, National Guard, stationed at American Lake, Wash.:

Dear Folks: I am in camp today as my arm is stiff and sore so decided to lay off if they would let me. The vaccination "took," as they say, which is the cause. All last week I was with a crew that hauled poles for a power line and helped dig holes and put up poles. Ordinarily the fellows would always rather go out with a surveying party or put up poles than stay in camp, as all left in camp are wanted to police the grounds. Now, in the army the word "police" has a peculiar meaning. The kitchen police are the men who peel the potatoes, wash dishes, etc. To police the grounds means to clean up the camp, pick up stray sticks, papers, matches, etc.

Our day is like this: At 6:00 the "first call" sounds; at 6:15, the reveille, and five minutes later the assembly. That gives us fifteen minutes to dress and five to make up the bed. In line they have the roll call to see if everybody is there and then a drill till breakfast.

The "eats" are good and substantial—nothing fancy. We have been given a funny little dish like a frying pan with jointed handle and a lid that fits tight over it. Inside are kept a tin knife, fork and a big spoon. Each article is stamped with the number of the owner. Mine is 30. The outfit is made of aluminum. As you go along, the cooks sloop a spoonful of one thing after another into your pan—potatoes, mush and milk, soup, prunes and macaroni—all mixed up together.

We were going to move to the barracks but the captain liked it better here in the woods.

Yesterday I went down to the lake to wash clothes. As we have only one outfit we have to let our clothes dry on the bushes while we are in swimming. In the evening I went to the Y. M. C. A. services at Murray, three and one-half miles from here, and walked back to camp. About five from this camp were there.

When an auto truck goes by it raises such a fog of dust that you have to feel your way along.

Now comes the corporal in charge of quarters and wants me to come and neep sprinkle the ground around the flag pole, so here I go.

Yours,

CARROLL.

Efforts to Keep 26-year Hole In Service Fails With Cave-In

WESTMINSTER, Aug. 16.—E. G. Stone met with a serious loss last week when his well caved in at the bottom, shutting off the flow of water. He has never been able to pump as much water as he needed and decided to have the well cleaned out and pierced, in hopes of securing an increased flow. The workmen damaged their sand pump when it struck some old well tools that had been left in the bottom of the well when it was bored twenty-six years ago when the place was owned by F. H. Kieffhaber. After the well was pierced it yielded a large flow of water for a time, then filled up the pump with quicksand and caved in at the bottom. Mr. Stone is now having a new seven-inch well put down by the Raines Well Drilling Company. At this date the new well is down 338 feet and nearing completion.

SAMMIES ABROAD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—News-hungry Sammies in France can count on the suffragette for current magazines and newspapers.

This was assured by President Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, in an enthusiastic statement to the United Press today.

She said General Pershing's plea for newspapers and magazines for his American boys would be answered.

"There is no question of the answer of the women of the country," said Mrs. Catt. "An opportunity like that speaks straight to the mother heart of every woman."

"It makes easy one of the kinds of service that women love to give. But more than that, to we suffragists it is an opportunity to give comfort to men who are fighting our fight—the fight for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their government."

"Our men are willing to risk their lives for the principle in France. They cannot fail to bring the fruits of their victory home."

"We will pass the word along to the 2,000,000 enrolled in our organization, and it is safe to predict that newspapers and magazines will be shipped from every suffragist home to

TO HERMAN

Firm in his faith that the cause of the Stars and Stripes in this war is the cause of right, our associate in the news room of the Register for the last three and a half years is leaving his desk to enter into the service of his country. Following their enlistment several weeks ago, Saturday morning he and his brother started for the government arsenal at San Antonio, Texas.

It is a keen and a deep personal interest that the Register staff feels in the enlistment of Herman Reuter. He has learned newspaper work among us. With a fondness for writing and the determination to learn, he has developed into a newspaper worker of unusual ability. From the day he began work upon the Register and endeavored painstakingly to make his first story and all his succeeding stories works of newspaper art, that sense of loyalty that marks the true newspaperman has been his constant attitude toward the Register. Among us he is known not only for his good copy but also for his thorough good nature, which counts for a lot in this world. He will go, loyal and true, wherever and against whatever Uncle Sam sends him, if need be, to the death. Our very best wishes go with him, for his welfare while he is gone and for his safe return when the war is over.

TO WAR STRENGTH

The regular army is now filled up. And it has been done by volunteers. The past week brought in the last of the 186,000 men needed to swell the army to the strength authorized by Congress four months ago. The completion of this enrollment marks the close of a campaign for volunteers that has proved far more successful than most of us expected—more successful, in fact, than any previous effort of the kind in American history.

The draft has occupied nearly all the public attention lately. But the draft, it should be remembered, has been applied only to the raising of the new "national army." All the other branches of our service, military and naval, have been filled by volunteers.

While this regular army recruiting was in progress about 180,000 men joined the National Guard. Inasmuch as the Guard was promptly mustered into federal service, that means that since April 1 we have added more than 360,000 men directly to our land forces by the volunteer system. And they are but a small proportion of the volunteers.

In the same period the navy gained 75,000 men, taken from a total of 225,000 volunteers. Many thousands of men of an exceptionally high quality applied for admittance to the officers' training camps. About 45,000 offered themselves for the marine corps, 150,000 for the naval reserve, 75,000 for the army reserve and 25,000 for the naval militia.

Many of them, very likely, were influenced somewhat by the knowledge that if they failed to volunteer they might be drafted. But even so, the volunteering has been highly creditable to the country. No better proof could be asked for that this is truly a people's war, and the nation is ready to make any sacrifice necessary for the preservation of its free institutions and high ideals.

CAMOUFLAGE

The war has created a new and fascinating art, developed apparently by the French and practised by them and the British with conspicuous success. They call it "camouflage." It is the art of deception for purposes of concealment from the enemy. A battery of guns is decked out with branches to make it look like a clump of underbrush. A "tank" is painted mud-color, to make it indistinguishable from the soil it crawls over. Tents are smeared in all sorts of outlandish hues to make them blend with the landscape like natural objects. Soldiers' uniforms are colored to suit the particular work they are engaged in, by day or night, according to the light, the weather conditions, the soil and the vegetation. Airplanes are made to blend with the sky and clouds, boats and ships to blend with the water.

It isn't really a new thing, though its military use is a novelty. The birds have been practising camouflage for countless ages, suiting their color to their environment to escape detection by their foes. Sometimes they do it by blending into the color of bark, leaves, plants, grass or soil, and sometimes by means of bold contrast. Insects are great camouflage artists, for the sake of protection from the birds. Animals do it, too. Any hunter knows the difficulty of detecting a wild rabbit when it squats motionless on the snow or dead grass before his eyes. And what boy has not learned the difficulty of catching frogs, those camouflage experts of the swamps?

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Running Things
"War-making powers must be taken out of the hands of the rulers," says a paper printed not in Germany, as might be supposed, but in America, "and confided to the people alone." Queer so many editors are talking queer now, and even queerer that they think they can put it across.

This country, unhappily, but necessarily and inevitably, is engaged in a serious war. It is conceded generally that a war must have leadership. For every man to be a colonel at least would result in confusion. For such an emergency authority either has to be centralized or there is no authority.

Passengers on an Atlantic liner often are convinced that they know more about running the ship than the captain does, but when they prefer advice, as likely as not they are regarded as impertinent chumps, and were they to invade the bridge, would be kicked thence with obduracy and contumely.

The apparent trouble with editors afflicted as the one quoted, is that they see their friend Germany is getting into a hole, and so far as possible they seek to paralyze the arm that is helping to thrust it there.

Deserting Fiction for Reality

Not long ago a man committed suicide, leaving the explanation that he was a writer of stories, but unable to sell his product. Of course some people cannot write stories at all. They may be good at description, at character analysis, but they have to deal with facts, or they are out of the game and unable to deal at all. Nevertheless it is strange that anybody competent to write any sort of a story should fail to dispose of it. Much of the stuff that is getting by the magazine editors is so utterly worthless that it is inconceivable that any scribbler could contrive a worse quality. The trash of the cheaper magazines, supposed to have been prepared for the cheering and uplifting of the chambermaid and the messenger boy, goes beyond this, for it seems to have been prepared by these individuals in the intervals between their more useful tasks. If the disgraced writer who looked upon his last rejection slip, and then reached for the chloroform, is now in a position to reflect upon the matter, he may comfort his soul with the assurance that his stories were turned down not because too bad, but for being too good. If the public wants anything more sloop and puff, it isn't getting more likely to get it unless it remove the occupants of magazine editorial chairs. These editors must be the explanation, for it does not seem possible that among the hundreds of ambitious writers not more than half a dozen can write.

Ruining Germany

The allies are accused of trying to ruin Germany. A policeman catches a burglar in the act and grabs him by the neck. Villain! Trying to ruin an honest burglar.

To New Environment

While not aware of the precise method by which members of the reichstag are chosen, would suggest that the atmosphere of the chamber where the council of that body are held would be suited to the temperament of Senator Stone, geographically of Missouri and sympathetically of Prussia.

The Rare and Radiant Ham

"Ham" Lewis of Illinois seems inclined to be influenced by the pro-German element for the votes of the men in good to him. Mayor Thompson goes the senator one better, and is frankly pro-German in sympathy and conduct. The good old Sucker state is living right up to its name, or there would be a dual g. b. and a pair of thumping impacts on the floor of the political arena.

A Nation of Cripples and Invalids

If the physical condition of the young men of this age is as bad as would appear from the examinations reported, the war will be a good thing. It is plain that the situation was desperate in more ways than one. Even in times of peace a nation cannot put in its best ticks when composed largely of cripples and invalids. The war is a boon in calling attention to lamentable conditions that in some unaccountable way had been overlooked. Insurance companies must have known something about it, and ought to have told.

Good Old Iowa

Back in Iowa a number of wealthy citizens have been indicted for treason. There are many Germans in that state, among them a lot who have made their fortunes there, and remained true to the kaiser all the time. Iowa sizes up as a pretty patriotic state, and is a poor place for mental reservation naturalized citizens to act the traitor and expect to get away with it. Taking the oath of fealty, with fingers crossed, is a practice that might as well be stopped right now.

CIVIL SERVICE MEN TO GET WAR LEAVE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 16.—State employees may be granted leave of absence by the State Civil Service to go to war with the assurance that they can have their positions back afterward, according to the opinion of the commission this afternoon.

One of America's best known musicians recently patented a new device for treating skin diseases and rheumatism by electric light.

CANNING LESSONS

Are you helping to feed a soldier by feeding yourself next winter with produce from your war garden? says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington. Can all you can is the slogan and to further its nationwide campaign being conducted with the co-operation of this newspaper: every reader can have a canning and drying manual who will send a two-cent stamp to the commission at 210 Maryland Building, to pay the postage. Today's lesson is on peppers.

There are several ways for canning peppers. Wash red peppers and slice off stem end, remove seeds and cut cross-wise into rings with scissors. Drop slices into boiling water for two minutes and then let stand in very cold water for ten minutes. Drain, pack into jars and fill to overflowing with a boiled syrup of two cups sugar and a quart of vinegar. Seal jars at once and invert to cool.

Place sweet green peppers in oven until the skin plisters, peel and pack into hot jars. Add boiling water to fill jars with a level teaspoonful of salt to the quart, adjust and partially water for an hour and a half. Remove water for an hour and a half. Remove jars, tighten tops and invert to cool in place free from draughts.

The Spanish pimientos should be prepared as above and packed in jars without the addition of any water. Sterilize for thirty minutes and seal jars immediately. This process brings out a thick liquor which covers the peppers in the jars and renders the addition of water unnecessary.

For drying, peppers may be split down the side, the seeds removed and the fruit dried at once, or the peppers may be placed in the oven till the skin blisters, then peeled and treated as above.

If desired, dry peppers whole by stringing on stout thread, or the whole plant may be hung up to dry. The small sweet red peppers may be spread in thin layers and dried as in the case of berries. Do not use to great heat in any case.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Helga Saved a King

[Adapted From Hans Christian Andersen.]

WHEN daddy and the children had finished hoeing the corn they sat down for the bedtime story. "There was once an old king of Egypt who was very sick. His daughter had gone to the wild bog north to get him a healing flower. But she had been stuck in the bog for years, till at last Father Stork gave her and her daughter, Helga, two swan plumes to fly back to Egypt in.

"Around the old king's bed stood his doctors and servants when into the room sailed two white swans who had come from the northlands with the flocking storks. They threw off their plumes, and there stood two beautiful women, Helga and her mother.

"They bent lovingly over the pale old king, and they put loving hands upon him. As Helga bent over her grandfather color came back into his poor sick cheeks and new life returned to his limbs. It must just be that Helga herself was the purple lotus flower that her mother had gone to the wild bog to get as the healer of the sick king.

"Anyway, the old man arose with health and vigor renewed, and his daughter and grandchild clasped him in their arms. It was a joyous greeting after long, troubled years.

"Joy reigned through the palace and the storks' nests too. You remember that it was Father Stork who had planned how Helga and her mother should get back to the old sick king. But the young storks chiefly rejoiced over the abundance of food and the swarms of young frogs that jumped about in the soft, hot mud of the river Nile.

"While the sages and wise men of the king's court told the story of the two princesses who had been kept in the wild bog so many years and the healing they had brought back to the sick king through great love of him, and which brought such joy and blessing to the land, the parent storks told the same story to their young folks.

"But of course that story was not told to the stork family till the whole flock of them had been satisfied with a good meal of frogs. Till then there was something better to do than to listen to the story of an old sick man healed by his granddaughter, who was so much like a purple lotus flower.

"Surely you will be made something at last," said Mother Stork to her husband. "It would not be reasonable or grateful otherwise."

"Oh, what would I be made? cried Father Stork modestly. "What have I done? Nothing at all! Nothing at all!" "He wasn't conceived and puffed up about himself, you see. And that's a very good trait in all of us," daddy ended.

should be followed in examination of other questions such as those relating to the Balkans, Armenia and Poland, whose traditions and sufferings during the present war should attract the sympathies of all nations.

"In presenting these conditions to you we are animated by a desire for their acceptance and to see the conclusion at an early date of the struggle which appears more and more a useless massacre.

"The whole world recognizes that the honor of the armies of both sides is safe. Give you ears, therefore, to our prayers. Accept the invitation which we send you in the name of the Divine Redeemer, the Prince of Peace. Reflect you, on your grave responsibilities before God and man. On your decision depends the peace and joy of innumerable peoples, the lives of thousands and the happiness of those for whom our duty is to secure their welfare."

Accompanying the pope's message was a letter from Papal Secretary Gasparri requesting that he forward the appeal to the French, Italian and American governments.

PREMIER LIKELY TO MAKE STATEMENT

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Premier Lloyd George will deliver an important address in the House of Commons this afternoon at which time it is regarded as extremely likely he will make England's first official pronouncement in reply to the Pope's peace appeal.

The premier is to discuss the war situation, according to an announcement in connection with a motion to adjourn Parliament for summer recess.

paying the world over will doubtless give more thought to peace than heretofore, since the offer came from such an influential source as the Pope, with a devoted following of millions.

The Government stated today it is going ahead with war preparations as vigorously as before. This determination, coupled with the proposed refusal of the appeal, is likely to have the psychological effect in Germany of striking new despair to an already suffering population.

REPORT TROOPS INJURED NOT CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Neither the war nor navy department had any confirmation of a disaster to American troops in France. Answering a report that a number of wounded Americans had been transferred to an English hospital, both departments said they had received nothing of any form of trouble for the Americans, but promised to make such news public as soon as it arrives, if not incompatible with the military situation.

The bureau of public information announced no confirmation by the departments.

Authorities thought the story might have originated from transfer of sick or convalescent Samnies from France though they had not been advised any were taken to England.

Recently Miss Paul entertained the missionary ladies twice, during both occasions the work being Red Cross sewing.

Jolly Crowds Handling Uncle Sam's Business Has Evening Off

The clerks of the post office and their families journeyed to Balboa last evening and enjoyed supper on the sands. After the duties of the day had been performed, autos were boarded and upon arrival at Balboa they found that Superintendent of Mails Harvey, who had preceded them, had a bonfire lighted and supper cooking.

After partaking of the repast, consisting of beans, salad, "hot dogs," coffee and fruit, some of the more venturesome took a dip in the ocean, while the others amused themselves with playing pranks on the bathers.

Later in the evening the picnickers gathered around the bonfire and a program of impromptu athletic stunts, sack races, etc., was pulled off. Everybody had a jolly time, and when time to return home arrived, all gathered around the fire and sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America."

About thirty-five persons were present.

ONE IN TWELVE OWNS
CAR IN CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—With one automobile for every 11 persons in the state, Iowa led the country in 1916 in the number of motor cars per capita, according to official figures in the government office of Public Roads.

California was second with one car for every 12 inhabitants.

Nebraska and South Dakota had one for every 13. Arkansas stood last in the list of states with only one car for every 116 persons.

The national average was one for every 29. By sections, the south had relatively the fewest cars in proportion to population.

Do not neglect the old stock now that the chicks take up your attention, but be sure that the fowls get plenty of good feed, and have airy, healthful quarters to live in.

TALBERT NEGRO LABOR IN TALBERT BEET FIELDS BEING INCREASED

Sam Talbert Brings Additional Colored People For His Topping Crews

SEVERAL WOMEN WORK BESIDE MEN IN FIELD

Adopt Plan to Rid Drainage Ditches of Weed Nuisance By Poison

TALBERT, Aug. 15.—Negro labor in this district has been increased during the past week. Sam Talbert has brought in a new bunch of laborers for his beet fields. Talbert already had thirty-one negroes at work, but needed more labor. What were not needed by Talbert were taken to other sections for beet work.

Several women accompanied the men who were brought here. The women are working in the fields with the men, and are proving good workers. The negroes, generally, are living in houses on the Gisler and Finley ranches.

Harvest in Full Swing

The beet harvest is now in full swing here. Practically all the growers are taking out their crops, and the beet dumps have been busy places this past week. Five hundred tons went over the East Talbert dump during the six days. The labor trouble is now practically dispelled and everyone has all the help needed. I. M. Van Schiltz began plowing out beets Monday, using his caterpillar for the work. He is using negroes all together in his fields, several women working with the topping crew.

F. D. Plavan began taking out his beets this week and now has twenty acres out.

Kill Weeds in Ditch

An experiment to rid the drainage canals of the weeds which prove such a nuisance to the drainage system will be begun soon under the supervision of Mr. Wardwell, who was here this week preparing for the work.

A deadly acid will be sprayed along

Few Drops on a Corn or Callus

Instantly stops pain and they lift right off with fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug called freezone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers. It doesn't hurt one particle.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet.

Women, keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

Former Pastor Heard From

A letter received Tuesday by friends from Mrs. A. B. Waldrep, wife of Rev. Waldrep, pastor for three years of the local M. E. South church, states they still reside at Verdona, Okla., to which place they went directly from here, and that they are still delighted with their charge there. Exceedingly hard times appear to be in store for the ranchers about Verdona as the crops are a total failure, having been entirely burned up by the extremely hot weather. It is only six years since the same disaster struck that vicinity.

The Waldrep family has just returned home, Rev. Waldrep having spent six weeks at Dallas, Tex., where he took a course at the university. Mrs. Waldrep and the little girls, Dorothy and Louise, spent the time of his absence in Tennessee at the home of Mrs. Waldrep's parents.

Mrs. Waldrep has been very ill and hope for her recovery was despaired of for a time, she having been taken with a severe case of erysipelas of the face which lasted four weeks. She is now recovered and the other members of the family are well, she states.

Mrs. A. Martel and daughter, Miss Mary Mueller, were Huntington Beach visitors on Monday.

Mrs. Ray Wardlow and little daughters, Helen, Louise and Martha, visited Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Wardlow's sister, Mrs. John Elder, at Huntington Beach.

George Bushard and family and Mrs. M. E. Brown of Los Angeles were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Mary B. Bushard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Martel motored to Capistrano last Friday.

Sunday Services

Next Sunday evening Rev. Robert Payne Howell, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district of the M. E. Church South, will be present at the evening service. He will deliver the sermon and also hold the quarterly meeting, which is the last for this year. This will probably be the last chance to hear Rev. Howell in this capacity as he is now rounding out his fourth year as presiding elder, which is the time limit for holding this important position. Rev. Howell has once before presided four years in this district. The general conference of the church will convene the first week in October and will be held at the Surgeon Memorial church in Santa Ana.

EACH SAMMY TO HAVE PRIVATE SECRETARY

BY GEORGE MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Every Sammy in France will have a secretary to write letters to his folks if he is too badly wounded or too busy swatting the Boches to do it himself.

Adjutant General McCain has arranged the same secretarial system for the first 687,000 draft Sammies in cantonment camps in this country this fall. And for the million men, likewise.

"Our plan to enable friends and relatives of American soldiers to get prompt information as to their welfare," said General McCain today, "will require, for every million men, about 1200 officers, enlisted men and field clerks."

World headquarters for this organization, which is already at work, will be in the State, War and Navy Building in Washington. It is known officially as "The Statistical Division."

In addition to writing letters and postcards, the duties of members of the division will include:

Gathering information concerning individuals at general, divisional, regimental and company headquarters, field and base hospitals, ports of embarkation and camps in this country where troops are mobilized and trained.

Handling inquiries concerning prisoners of war; both German prisoners in America and American prisoners in Germany.

A big training school for these Sammies' secretaries has been established at the War Department and is in operation now. Officers of the division are being selected from the officers' training camps and will be sent to France and to places in this country as soon as trained.

"Every company of American soldiers, everywhere," said General McCain, "will be accompanied by one or more of these men regularly stationed with it and part of whose job will be to know every man in the company."

"This man will report to the regimental Statistical Division which will be specially charged with the preparation and forwarding of casualty lists and data as to wounded and seriously ill."

"Information will likewise be reported as to all civilians accredited with the army."

The organization will finally be completed by having a regimental section with each regiment. This will be in charge of the regular adjutant, assisted by the chaplain.

General McCain wishes all Sammies, their relatives and friends to make full use of this secretariat division. Word can be gotten home, he feels, more expeditiously by the Sammie through one of the division's form postcards than by any other means except expensive cable.

These postcards are official and do not have to be delayed for censoring. If unable to write himself, his statistical field secretary will gladly do it for the Sammie.

BASTANCHURY IS BUILDING NEW PACKING HOUSE

Structure Will Be 80 x 120 Feet and Will Cost $20,000

FULLERTON, Aug. 16.—Fullerton is to have another new packing house—one of the finest and best equipped in Southern California. The Bastanchury Ranch Company has commenced work on a new modern warehouse which will cost $20,000. It will be 80 by 120 feet.

Fruit and many other products grown on the Bastanchury ranch, consisting of several thousand acres, will be shipped from the new house.

Hollow tile will be used in the construction of the walls and the building is to have what is known as a "saw-tooth" roof; also a large cement basement.

The large building will be within the city limits of Fullerton, on the line of the Pacific Electric now building to this place.

It will be equipped with the best and most modern machinery to be found in the markets of California.

The station at the new packing house, will be named "Bastanchury."

The building will be erected by day labor under the direction of Frank Benchley.

The $20,000 packing house, recently completed here by the Placentia Orange Association, will also be on the line of the Pacific Electric.

The Gibbs Lumber Company was awarded the contract to supply the lumber.

Will Extend City Hall Site

By an agreement entered into with the city council, this city will come into possession of the property north of Wilshire avenue, on the west side of Spadra avenue, now occupied by the Fullerton Lumber Company. The city already owns the property from Whiting avenue to the property on which the lumber company stands and the deal Tuesday night will give the city a frontage of an entire block on which to build the new city hall.

The consideration for the property bought Tuesday night from G. F. McDermott of Los Angeles was $11,250, $1000 to be paid now and the remainder $1000 annually. The city, however, has the privilege of paying the entire sum at once.

The property will not be available to the city for two years. The Fullerton Lumber Company holds a lease on it which does not expire until 1919.

Birch is Developing

The Birch Oil Company has entered upon a successful campaign of development work on the hill.

No. 14, a drilling well that has been drilling at 1825 feet. The famous No. 5 is on the beam again and producing at the rate of 130 barrels a day. The well has been giving considerable trouble since it stopped flowing several months ago and it has been found necessary to keep the hole agitated in order to get any production at all.

The rods are now in the hole and the depth of the well being close to 4000 feet deep, pumping is attended with more or less difficulty.

The Birch Oil Company is about to bring the water campaign to a close with very successful results.

Wells Nos. 9 and 12 are now being tested out and show much less water than formerly.

No. 12 is making more oil than before, a fact that is rather hard to account for.

Plan Arch

Plans are to be prepared by W. J. Renshaw, city engineer, for the arch that is to be constructed by the Bastanchury Ranch Company at the city limits on the Spadra road. The arch, which is to be of concrete, will bear the inscription, "Fullerton City Limits."

SHOT NINE TIMES
CHINAMAN GETS GUN-SHY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Toy Jew, Chinese, was shot nine times during the recent tong war and it's made him gun-shy.

So when Police Judge Sullivan went to Toy's room at the hospital, with his bailiff, clerk and Qing Yuen, charged with having shot Toy, the complaining witness and hospital patient, was taking no chances.

Sullivan was astounded to see the bed which Toy was supposed to be occupying and near death, empty, its covers ruffled.

Then the judge heard a gurgle, from under the bed. He saw a foot trembling like its owner might be in the throes of agony. The judge thought a moment and saw a connection between the muffled-up bed and the quaking foot. He forgot his dignity and dropped to his knees to peer under the bed.

There was Toy, trembling like a mould of gelatin.

"Judge, you search'em Chinese," Toy stammered with chattering teeth. "Me think'em got guns. Nine times I shot. No more take chances. You look—then I come out."

The judge murmured "Ouch." Then he inched up Ching's "eight friends" against the wall and had them searched. No guns were present.

"All right, Toy," the judge reassured the Chinaman. Toy crept from hiding and into bed.

But all through the morning while testimony was being taken at the bedside of the dying Toy, he remained suspicious.

GRACE ROWLEY HOME

AFTER SEVEN YEARS

IN CHINESE MISSION

Miss Grace Rowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rowley of this city, returned from China yesterday. Miss Rowley has been absent from home for the past seven years, working as a missionary under the Presbyterian church.

Miss Rowley has been en route home for the past two months visiting on the way from China at Peking, in Korea and Japan. The trip across the Pacific was made on board the Korea Maru, the ship upon which the Ishih Japanese Commission came to America. More than one-third of the first-class passengers were Japanese, according to Miss Rowley.

The work that Miss Rowley has been doing in China was along educational lines. She has had charge of a girls' high school at Wehsien in Shantung province, a school with an enrollment of between sixty and seventy students.

Miss Rowley will spend a year's furlough in America, visiting friends and relatives, and resting from her strenuous work. Mr. and Mrs. Rowley met their daughter in Los Angeles yesterday, the party coming to Santa Ana by auto.

Miss Edna Alger, formerly of this city, returned with Miss Rowley from China, but remained in the north for a visit with relatives for the present. She will be in Santa Ana later.

IT SOUNDED FATAL

Two little girls in a town in Southern California were overheard by an elder as they compared the marvelous things that had happened to them in their respective infancies.

"When I was born," stated one, "I was so small that my papa put me in his overcoat pocket."

For a moment the other eyed her, half doubtfully. Then, filled with conviction, she said:

"Oh, Helen, did you live?"—Saturday Evening Post.

SCHLESINGERSTO

OPERATE TWO

PLAYHOUSES

October make a uniform admission fee of 15 and 20 cents in the two places of amusement. This will be a raise of 5 cents at the West End, where a reserve section of the higher priced seats will be established. There will be no change in prices when a special extra feature is put on, it being the purpose of the management to give their patrons the very best that is to be had at a popular price—a price that never changes with the change of a program.

That the Schlesingers have made good as managers of moving play houses is demonstrated by the splendid business success they have had at the West End. They started in the business here about three and a half years ago, their first house being the Temple. It was largely through their efforts that the beautiful moving picture house they now occupy was built on the corner of Fourth and Birch streets, and many of their friends predicted their success in the maintenance of a house of this character.

Accommodating almost to a fault and ever interested in the comfort and pleasure of their patrons, the Schlesingers have won a place for themselves in the hearts of the fans of the city.

"Naturally we are in the business to make some money, but our greatest pleasure is in giving our patrons big values whether we make money or not," said Mr. Schlesinger this morning.

"The scope of our operations will be largely increased by acquisition of Clune's and it places us in a position to contract with and handle the productions of the very best of manufacturing companies. Practically all of the world famous stars will appear in the productions which will be seen at our playhouses. We will present all of the Griffith productions, as well as the masterpieces of Thomas Ince, Cedric De Mille, I. Stuart Blackton and Mack Sennett comedies, also the entire output of Paramount, Artercraft, Vitaphone, Metro, Kleebe, Edison, Esanay, Selig, Morosco, Lasky and Famous Players, O. Henry's famous stories, Hearst-Pathe News and Burton Holmes' travels. The stars shown in these productions are Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, William S. Hart, Marguerite Clark, Billie Burke, Clara Kimball Young, Geraldine Farrar, Elsie Ferguson, George M. Cohen, Lena Cavarelli, Julian Eltinge, Pauline Frederick, Olga Petrova, Sessu Hayakawa, George Beban, Jack Pickford, Vivian Martin, Wallace Reid, Ann Pennington, Fannie Ward, Charles Ray, Enid Bennett, Dorothy Dalton, Madame Naximova, Alice Joyce, Harry Morey, Edith Storey, Viola Dana, Harold Lockwood, Ethel Barrymore, Roscoe (Patty) Arbuckle, Francis Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Theodore Roberts and a great many more of the famous stars.

"Aside from these other stars and big productions from the open market added from time to time. All big attractions which are shown at the West End or Clune's Santa Ana theater.

"Some of the good things in store are 'The Amazons,' 'The Little American,' 'Wild and Woolly,' 'The Varmint,' 'Mary Jane's Pa,' and 'Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm.'

Popular Managers of West End Secure Lease on Clune's Effective October 1

With productions of the best producing companies in the United States under contract and Clune's Theater under lease to them, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schlesinger of the West End will become important factors in the amusement life of Santa Ana. A deal just consummated with Clune, places these popular moving picture house managers in possession of the local Clune house for the next three years. They will operate the West End Theater and Clune's and with the combined houses will have access to high grade moving pictures not available to a small house in communities of this size. The double-house proposition gives them a purchasing power and a standing with the producing companies that insures patrons of the two houses the best that is to be had in filmdom.

They will open Clune's on the first of October, when uniform prices will prevail in both houses. The increase in the cost of films, being as high as 400 per cent in some companies where the big stars work, and the contracts under which these big features will be obtainable, makes it mandatory on the management to establish two admission prices, according to location in the house, and because of this fact the Schlesingers will on the first of the Cheapest in the End

Simply because some of the articles you have seen and desired to possess were priced a little higher than you expected—don't think that you cannot afford them.

The difference between furnishings of quality and the kind that is made to "sell at a price" represents the lack of one or more of these essentials—material, workmanship, or finish. The money you invest in home furnishings that combine all of these qualities is money wisely expended.

Every article on our floors conforms to certain ideals—either in design, material, workmanship, or finish. If it were of sub-standard quality we wouldn't show it at all.

As you go about selecting furnishings for your home, do not overlook the importance of picking the best because the best is the cheapest in the end.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

MESSERALL PLEADS

HE IS NOT GUILTY

OF CUT-IN CHARGE

Trial of Man Who Was Arrested On Crowding Accusation Is August 24

J. Messerall says he did not do it. He pleads not guilty to a charge of cutting-in on the Westminster road last Sunday.

The complaint against the lowlands rancher was sworn to by John Cubbon, well known resident of Santa Ana. Cubbon said that as he was driving toward Westminster, Messerall passed him as another machine was approaching and cut in so close to Cubbon that Cubbon was crowded almost into a ditch, a risk of life that was no joke to Cubbon and those in his car with him.

Messerall's trial is set by Justice Cox for August 24.

The Jury Disagrees

A jury in Justice Armbr's court at Orange disagreed in the trial of Sussdorf, charged by Humane Officer Perkins with cruelty to a cow. The evidence showed that the cow had some sore spots caused by some apparatus she wore to conserve the milk supply.

For Disturbance

Pablo Mosourda, who recently was convicted of beating his wife with a Jug, is in jail again for disturbance. His trial is August 21.

Fines for City

Justice Cox turned $45 over to City Recorder Heathman this morning. The money was collected while Cox was handling city business during the recorder's absence.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

FOUND NOT GUILTY

OF FELONY CHARGE

Edward Francis, chauffeur for a moving picture company, was found not guilty of a felony charge involving a 13-year-old girl of Laguna Beach. The evidence against the man was insufficient to convict. On the jury were G. B. Ingram, H. A. Miller, W. H. Kiser, A. A. Lee, John Schmidt, J. P.

Peralta, E. E. Cooley, James McMillan, J. W. T. Kimball, L. M. Lindsey, Waldo Liebig and J. O. Harper.

For Excavation

The Pacific Telephone Company has asked the supervisors for permission to put telephone wires under ground across South Main street at the E. T. Pallett and J. E. Foss residences. The wires are to go under ground so that there will be no danger of contact with high-tension wires.

Judgment Record

There has been recorded here an abstract showing judgment entered in Ventura county in favor of L. F. Robinson against H. B. Clemens for $650.

TERROR OF PORT

IS CAPTURED BY

ANGLER OF CO. L

SOMEWHERE IN CALIFORNIA, Aug. 13.—Editor of Register: The boys of Company L who are at this place are enjoying themselves immensely. They are no longer lonesome as they were when in the hills, for this is a lively place. Oil and freight ships come in every day. This makes it very interesting, as we can go aboard and give each vessel the once over.

One of the boys caught a shark yesterday. One of the "natives" stated that it is the same one which, while in a frenzy of hunger pursued a hippopotamus nineteen miles inland. The hippo escaped by climbing a huge sycamore tree. The shark then wrecked a restaurant and voraciously devoured all the chinaware and silverware.

They have a dance here three times every week. Last night there was a record-breaking crowd, four couples and two soldiers. A young and gay canine was also noticed leaning against the wall looking with amused contempt at the wild attempts of the perspiring young swains.

We drill three hours a day under Lieutenant Swanner. We have the idea that we are improving fast but it is hard to state Lieutenant Swanner's opinion. We hope it is in our favor.

Private Earl Rails is now the appointed alarm clock of our detachment. He forces the men to arise promptly at the hour of six.

It is stated that Corporal Rochester while strolling carelessly about the other day stumbled over a tent rope. He seems to be normal.

The boys are saving ten tobacco tags for Henry Ford. He will doubtless be grateful as prices are very high on account of the war.

Corporal Buck Fipps and Bean Blackmore concocted a new dish. It is composed of boiled sand crabs. The crabs were boiled for nine hours. The broth was very tasty, but the crabs were sure hard boiled. Even dynamite, the dog, refused to eat them.

Statistics prove that 231 of these crabs served with a sliced olive will make a good meal for one adult.

Buck and Bean have promised to leave cooking alone in the future.

This place is composed of one general store, one hotel, several residences, a post office and about 400 oil tanks of immense size. Yet we lead a joyous life here and cannot wish for any better.

We are awaiting recruits from Santa Ana. Young men, join before it is too late to designate your choice of service.
